Akash Thakkar's website - reference for the navbar, blog page and article

The blog page displays three articles in a grid format. The first article, "The 5-Second Method: How to Practice Sound Design with Minimal...", is by Akash Thakkar on Sep 9, 4 min. It includes a photo of two hourglasses. The second article, "How to Find Game Audio Gigs (Without Leaving your House) - 2020 Edition", is by Akash Thakkar on Aug 28, 9 min. It features a graphic with the words "STAY HOME". The third article, "Why Showing Your Work", is by Akash Thakkar on Aug 20, 4 min. It shows a photo of wooden scaffolding.

The article page for "The 5-Second Method" shows the title, author (Akash Thakkar), and a short blurb: "While I'm definitely more of a dog person, I do love a good lynx." Below this is a paragraph about lynxes being cool and fierce, mentioning Chrono Cross. A small image of a green-skinned, feline-like character from Chrono Cross is shown at the bottom.

Hello!

My name is Victor Zottmann and I'm a Full Stack Developer in training.

My background is in audio engineering for the creative industries, where I worked as a dialogue editor and sound designer for documentaries and 360 videos. I've recently obtained a Master's degree in Audio and Acoustics at the University of Sydney with the objective to transition to Acoustic Consulting. During the course, however, I was exposed to plenty of programming and interaction design concepts, which made me realise that I had a hidden passion for software development.
